Read the following passage, then answer the questions:

It is commonly believed that only rich middle-aged businessmen suffer from stress. Anyone may become ill as a result of stress if they experience a lot of worry. Stress can be a friend or an enemy. It can warn you that you are under too much pressure and should change your way of life. It can kill you if you don't notice the warning signals.

When we are very frightened and worried, our bodies produce certain chemicals to help us fight what troubling us. These produce the energy needed to run away fast from an object of fear. If we don't use up these chemicals or produce too many of them, they may harm us. The stomach, heart, skin, head and back are badly affected by stress. For example, any student in a final year can be under two stresses. He can be under great pressure preparing for his exams and a dispute with his father. He may wake up after sleeping badly discovering that his body was covered by red lumps. Stress can also cause car accidents, heart attacks, alcoholism and even suicide.

Our living and working conditions may put us under stress. Overcrowding in large cities, traffic jams, competition for jobs, uncertainty about the future may be stressful. If you have changed jobs or moved house in recent months, you are likely to fall ill. What can we do about stress? As with all illnesses prevention is better than cure. When you are taking work home, you can enjoy yourself. So you have to tell yourself that it is time to stop and join a relation class. To avoid stress, one should have a balanced life.
